

Wing and Brewer.

ROULETTE & BURR, PROPRIETORS.

C. A. ROULETTE, Editor.

All communications should be addressed to Wing and Brewer, and communications intended for publication should be addressed to "Editor of Wing and Brewer."

MONDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1886.

The registration in Brooklyn is very satisfactory to the Republicans. It shows a falling off in the strong Democratic wards and an increase in the strong Republican wards.

We devote considerable space this morning to a report of the closing proceedings of the Young Men's Christian Association. The organization is accomplishing a grand work and is deserving of the most earnest support on the part of all good citizens.

Vice President Hendricks has been interviewed on the statement of Hon. Chauncey M. Depew relative to President Johnson, and takes pains to remark that the "charges" will not be sustained by public opinion, but as he adds, "personally I know nothing of Johnson's opinion or intentions," we fall to see how his "opinion" detracts anything from Mr. Depew's statement.

Our despatches this morning announce that many French Canadians escape the inspection authorities by entering the State in the night at the Moose River station, whence they have secured for the night, as well as day service. This is a step in the right direction. The utmost precaution should be exercised to guard against the danger of getting the disease into this State through the large immigration of Canadians.

Nicholas Borden, a policeman at Burlington, N. J., has confessed that he tampered with the ballot box in the First District at the last Mayoralty election, and changed the votes so as to give Mayor Smith a majority. Justice of the Peace George Riggs, who was the defeated Republican candidate for Mayor, will at once take measures to have the present Mayor removed. Will this or another Mullen case?

The suit against one of the members of the Committee of One Hundred in Cincinnati, for alleged perjury, which has been pursued in the Democratic papers, was thrown out of court Saturday. Because no one dared to appear and father the charge. We expected this would be the result of the very weak attempt to detract public attention. When the scoundrels who perpetrated the gross election frauds in Cincinnati are arraigned, they will not get off so easy.

It costs too much to send a boy to Yale College, the report of a Springfield observer generally conceded. No fewer place, says the Lowell Courier could be found to send a boy to spend four years than a college where extravagant living is the rule. Rich men's sons may go there, but they will not make it so much a place of education as of almost anything else. The boy who mainly pays his way through college by his own exertions is likely to make the stronger man, and that is getting to be almost impossible in the so-called leading colleges of the country.

Some days ago the Boston Herald, under the caption, "Freedom of Opinion," referred to Assistant Secretary Cope's declaration that he had no objection to the Republican ticket, and that if the Democrats would accept of his head, he would be worth under any President from Lincoln to Arthur if he had proclaimed it. Of course it is known that Democratic officials have not only given expression to their views but have voted their party ticket under Republican Administrations and have been retained in the Government service, although the Herald would make it appear otherwise. The point of the Herald's graph, however, as appears from the foregoing, is that under this so-called firm regime the greatest freedom of thought is permitted and no restraint is placed upon the political actions of Government officials. In attempting to run a Democratic President on a "reform" basis, the Herald has frequently got itself into absurd positions, as is the case in the present instance. Even while it has been laughing at the demands in the Democratic papers for Mr. Cope's resignation, it has used its pen to the danger, Secretary Manning has called for and received that gentleman's resignation. In calling for the name Mr. Manning took occasion to state that "he did not do so because of any dissatisfaction with any official act," and consequently he must have made the change of officials grounds solely. Score another point for the Herald and reform.

Down to Hard Pan. A Republican contemporary says "what difference it makes whether Mr. Hill is Cleveland's way or not, if Hill's way receives the countenance and support of Cleveland so far as he supports anything in the New York Convention." The President's support of "Hill's way" is not perceptible to the naked eye. - Boston Herald.

It would be hard to imagine anything more absurd than the position of the Mugwump papers to date. It appears that President Cleveland is entirely different to the result of the election in New York and that he has no intention of doing anything to aid his party in that State. When Gov. Hill was renominated they at first mildly insinuated and then boldly asserted that Hill was not of the "Cleveland type" and therefore is a "former President" could have interest in his election. This was followed by the publication of an official declaration from Mr. Cleveland's private secretary that "the President is a Democrat and any assertion that he does not desire the success of his party in New York is utterly and maliciously false." So emphatic a declaration was rather a singular obstacle for his Mugwump allies to overcome; but they eventually pulled themselves together and said the President could not very well do less than that being, as he declared, a Democrat.

They continued, however, to denounce Gov. Hill as a "political trickster," a man totally unfit for the position of Governor and finally asserted that no honest Democrat who desired to sustain the Administration could not very well do less than that being, as he declared, a Democrat.

inherent dishonesty was given full swing, and, ignoring their damages, resorted upon the President's "sincerity," coolly remarked that Gov. Hill would find very little consolation in the fact that the President merely intended to come home and deposit his single ballot and return without a word of indignation. This was an era of reform, they reiterated, and Mr. Cleveland would be up part whatever in the election except to discharge the duty of every citizen, namely, to go to the polls and vote.

After all these concessions, the Mugwump editor thought that at last he had reached a point where he would be able to stand, but his fond hopes have again been dashed. Among the despatches in the afternoon papers Friday was the following from New York:

Col. Daniel S. Lamont, a Free Press private secretary, is at the Hoffman House holding a consultation with the Executive Committee of the Democratic State Committee. Gov. Hill is expected to-night.

It looks very much as though the President was taking a very active interest in the pending campaign when he sends his private secretary at the way to New York to confer with Gov. Hill, and the other Democratic schemes as to the best means of promoting the success of this "reform" political movement. And if any further evidence is needed it can be found in the following: Was there a despatch to the New York Graphic and tonight apparently into the Boston Globe under the caption, "Substantial Evidence."

The Herald correspondent can authorize full information all which it may concern that the President has written a brief and elegant autograph endorsing the New York State Democratic ticket. It reads substantially as follows: "I am in the order of the President of the New York Democratic State Central Committee, one thousand dollars."

In other words, the President has subscribed $1,000 to aid in defraying the expenses of the Democratic campaign in the State. This is the first of a series of disbursements which amounts to no doubt a large sum. Similar sums of $1,000 each have been contributed by Secretaries Manning and Whitney, Mr. Lamont, Mr. Fairchild, Judge Maynard, Treasurer Jordan and others also subscribed liberally for the same purpose.

The fact is the President has found that it is time to show his hand. He has got a little more help out of the steam reform movement and in having reached the point where the real division has shown in itself to be just what everyone and the handful of professional Mugwumps clamor for to be a Democratic and so devoted to his party that he gives the aid and money to bring a suit, if possible, the election of a man whose record is such that the most pronounced adherents of the Administration regard him as an insult to the people of New York, simply because he is the regular nominee of the Democratic machine.

Now let the twiddle about the President be better than his party and devoted to him but reform cease.
